A NOVEL TO COMMAND ATTENTION

THE LAW of LIFE

BY

Anna McClure Sholl

FIVE veteran readers of manuscripts to whom this story was submitted returned to the publishers enthusiastic opinions. Here are some extracts from their reports:

"At last we have an author who is not afraid to face a tragic problem of love and sex, and who is able to treat it with dignity and full grasp of its depth and power."

"The reading of it was a constantly increasing delight."

"It is an essentially American novel, and one dealing with a phase of American Life from an entirely new point of view. Much has been written about the university life of the student; Miss Sholl is our first novelist to set before us the university life, socially and academically, of the professor. She has done it with a breadth, an ease, a realism, and a literary quality that lift her book far above the average."

DARREL

of THE BLESSED ISLES

By IRVING BACHELLER, Author of "EBEN HOLDEN" and "DR'I and I"

HARRIET PRES-
COTT SPOFFORD:

"I have read of late few more delightful stories than 'Darrel of the Blessed Isles.' Entirely fresh in conception and plot, it leads one with gentle but absorbing interest and with skilfully managed surprises and incidents. There is a sweetness and strength about the whole book rarely found in the novels of the day, and in its own genre unsurpassed."

60th THOUSAND

HON. B. B. ODELL, Governor of New York:

"I enjoyed every page of 'Darrel.'"

NEWELL DWIGHT HILLIS:

"'Darrel of the Blessed Isles' is at once the latest and the best of Mr. Bacheller's stories. It is an idyl of love and the story of a great happiness that came through a great self-sacrifice and expiation. Mr. Bacheller has clothed life's simplicities with enduring charm and beauty, and made honor and self-sacrifice, truth and love, seem the only things that are really worth while."

CYRUS NORTH-
ROP, President of University of Minnesota:

"The story commands unflagging interest in the development of its plot, and yet the plot is not the most essential or the most attractive part of the work. The daily acts of unselfishness performed by a soul purified and ennobled by suffering are even more striking than the plot."

GORGO

A ROMANCE OF OLD ATHENS

By CHARLES K. GAINES, Ph.D., Professor of Greek in St. Lawrence University.

GORGO is the naive and captivating heroine, naming the book, beloved by Theramenes, the Athenian, whose stormy career in politics, love, and war furnishes the motive of the tale. The story is laid in a period covering the time of the great Peloponnesian conflict, and abounds in striking war pictures. Conspicuous historic figures of the time, such as Socrates and Alcibiades, are delineated in a manner singularly lifelike.

ANDY BARR

By WILLIS B. HAWKINS.

BROOKLYN DAILY EAGLE:

"ANDY is a character worthy in every way to take his place with the David Harums and Eben Holdens of literature. He springs from the soil, and therefore is human and convincing and real. Mr. Hawkins' book would merit success if only for the creation of the character of Andy Barr; but the story is a good one, full of human interest, crisply told, and holding the reader's attention to the end."

LOTHROP PUBLISHING COMPANY, BOSTON

THE WARD OF KING CANUTE is described by the literary editor of Life as "one of the best romances and one of the most attractively finished books of the season." This is a very apt characterization of the book, and one that is substantiated by its growing sales and frequent new editions.

CARTOONS BY McCUTCHEON in three months is becoming as much a bulwark of American humor as George Ade's fables and the Dooley books. Its success has been phenomenal and grows more pronounced every day. The book is now in its fourth edition.

REFLECTIONS OF A LONELY MAN will shortly appear in a very attractive new cover—one that gives the customer an idea of the character of the book and engages his interest at once. This delightful little volume of fireside philosophy is now in its second edition.

NOTES IN SEASON.

THE LOTHROP PUBLISHING COMPANY have just ready a character sketch by Margaret Sidney, entitled "Sally, Mrs. Tubbs." It can be read through in an hour or so, and is a study of a typical New England old maid, full of humor and lively delineation and not without touches of true pathos. It is not a juvenile story, but will appeal to a wide audience of grown-ups.

LITTLE, BROWN & Co. have just ready the seventh and concluding volume of Sir William Laird Clowes's work on "The Royal Navy;" also, twenty new titles in their Boys' and Girls' Bookshelf, and two new titles in the Children's Friend Series. They are bringing out new editions of "Jo's Boys," with illustrations by Ellen Wetherald Ahrens, and of Mrs. Harriet Prescott Spofford's volume of poems, "In Titian's Garden."

D. APPLETON & Co. have just ready a story of New York life entitled "The Silver Poppy," the first long novel by Arthur Stringer. The story tells about the successes and disappointments of a novel writer—of the tragedy, the character of the success attained by the gifted heroine played in her life and in that of her lover. They will publish probably next month a new edition of "Phoenixiana," by John Phoenix, (Lieutenant Derby,) which contains sketches of army and mining life as viewed by a humorist fifty years ago. The book will have an introduction by John Kendrick Bangs and forty illustrations by E. W. Kemble.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS will publish next month a volume on "The Development of the Drama," by Brander Matthews, in which the author deals with Greek tragedy, Greek and Roman comedy, mediæval Spain, the drama in Spain, the drama in England, the drama in France, the drama in the eighteenth century, the drama in the nineteenth century, and the future of the drama; a new edition of Charles A. Stoddard's "Cruising Among the Caribbees," which has been enlarged and brought down to date, with six new illustrations; also, a new edition, in one volume, of Henry Cabot Lodge's "Story of the Revolution," which will contain all the illustrations of the original volume. In October they expect to bring out Senator George F. Hoar's "Autobiography of Seventy Years," portions of which appeared from time to time in Scribner's Magazine.

THE MACMILLAN COMPANY will bring out during the fall "The Forest Heath," a story of Indiana life during the thirties, by Charles Major; "The Beaten Path," a dramatic novel of modern life in a large Pennsylvania manufacturing town, by Richard L. Makin; "The Foe of Compromise," historical essays by William Garrott Brown, author of "The Lower South in American History;" "A Pleasure Book of Grindelwald," by James Ford Rhodes, who writes interestingly of one of the most popular and beautiful resorts in Switzerland; "The Heart of Rome," an intimate description of Roman and Italian life, by F. Marion Crawford; "The Building of a Working Faith," by Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis; also, "The Land of the Heather," by Clifton Johnson, who describes the typical people and scenes of Scotland with full appreciation of the picturesque and attractive and sturdy qualities of people whom the average tourist never comes to know.

- The Præparatio Evangelica of Eusebius is the first part of the Demonstratio Evangelica, the most systematic and comprehensive of the many apologetic works of Christian antiquity. The translator's original intention was simply to supply the ordinary English reader with a translation of moderate cost. But the existing editions of the Greek text were found to be so unsatisfactory, that he was obliged to undertake a complete revision of the text founded upon a new collation of the most important manuscripts. The whole work thus became too costly for many of the clergy and younger students of theology, for whose use it had been at first undertaken. But through the consideration of the Delegates of the Clarendon Press the English version is allowed to be sold separately at a reduced price. Two editions it will be seen are offered. The first is the English translation above at a reduced price. The second following comprises also the English translation (2 v.) and the Greek text (3 v.), there being 5 vs. in all although advertised as in 4 vs.—v. 3 being in two parts or 2 v.

The object of this paper is to show how some of the most important problems in celestial mechanics may be treated by methods which are rigorous, at least under specified conditions. These problems depend upon the solutions of differential equations; consequently the principal methods of integration are treated, and the manner of applying them to astronomical problems is shown.

A fascinating young man, claiming to be a Polish patriot, travelling incognito, is received by several good New York families. A young girl who had spent the previous year in France with companions thinks she recognizes him as the perpetrator of a brutal murder and robbery that occurred in an obscure inn where the party spent the night. A good detective story is built up, and clever glimpses given of fashionable and bohemian life in New York City.

The action of the story takes place on board an English sailing-vessel—the Dealman—bound on a voyage from England to an island off the coast of Cape Horn. The object of the voyage is to raise part of the valuable cargo of a steamer that had foundered in a bay of the island. The captain of the Dealman had just been married; his wife finds it very hard to be separated from him, and manages to smuggle herself aboard his ship. This is against orders, but when she is discovered it is too late to put her ashore. The adventures of the ship and "the captain's wife," are numerous and startling.

Returning after a three years' cruise in the staunch whaling ship Reindeer, Hiram Worth, third mate, has but one thought—to meet his sweetheart again, and make her his wife. The cruise has made him a rich man, and life looks very beautiful to him. The news that his promised bride has given him up for a rich rival ruins his life. Bent on vengeance, he becomes traitor to his country (the time is 1864, during the Civil War) and enters the Confederate service, leading their war ships to the fishing grounds where his rival is cruising. The ending is dramatic and cruel.

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

AUGUST 15, 1903.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications. All matter, whether for the reading-matter columns or advertising pages, should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

Publishers are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, as it is of the utmost importance that the entries of books be made as promptly and as perfectly as possible. In many cases booksellers depend on the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY solely for their information. The Record of New Publications of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY is the material of the "American Catalogue" and so forms the basis of trade bibliography in the United States.

"I hold every man a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help and an ornament thereunto."—LORD BACON.

IS BOOK STOCK EVER DEAD?

At a gathering of bookmen recently the question of what to do with "plugs" came up for discussion. Naturally, every one present had a theory, more or less practical, on the subject. All agreed that it was necessary to make a considerable sacrifice in order to get rid of slow stock except one bookseller, and he claimed that there is no such thing as an absolutely unsaleable book. Said he, "There is no book, however insignificant and out of date, which I cannot sell sooner or later, often at my own price, and which somebody will not come into my shop and ask for. Few books are ever entirely dead.

"If proper care and judgment were exercised in the purchase of books; that is, if the buying were done absolutely close to the demands of the business instead of being influenced, as it often is, by dazzling inducements that in the end prove will-o'-the-wisps, there would be fewer accumulations of slow stock. It is seldom safe for a dealer with a small constituency to take a second plunge on a so-called popular book, because from one day to another the enthusiasm over it may be chilled, for no reason whatever, and its sale stopped short. There is bound to be a scattering call for it for some time after the boom has subsided, and the dealer who has been enterprising enough while the excitement ran high, and careful when he felt the relaxation set in, will probably not be caught long with remainders."

But then it is undeniable that the best laid plans of mice and men often come to naught, and that the most careful buyer does get caught with a larger remnant than it would be desirable to carry for any length of time; for while, according to the bookseller we have quoted, a book may never be absolutely dead, it often remains in a moribund condition a provokingly long time. Hence, the burning question with many booksellers will continue to be how to move this slow-selling stock with the least possible loss.

By friendly co-operation among dealers in the same or in different cities much relief might be obtained, because what may not appeal to one class of readers, or one section of the country, may appeal to a different class of readers in another part of the country. Certain libraries, we understand, are effecting such exchanges regularly, to the satisfaction of all concerned. These exchanges might be managed by booksellers through the interchange of manifolded lists, or through advertisements in the trade journals. Some years ago THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY offered to open up a column of "Books for Exchange" at a rate reduced to five cents a line for entries amounting to one hundred lines at a time; that is, at the present price for fifty lines one hundred lines could be inserted, the price for less than one hundred lines, however, being as now at ten cents a line.

Among other expedients proposed it has been suggested that the publishers should consider a plan of sharing in the loss on slow stock by relieving the bookseller of his surplus, or a proportion of it, by exchange or otherwise, rather than have their books slaughtered in "remainder sales." As the proposer of this expedient, who is the agent for a large publishing house, said: "This might seem at first thought to work against the interest of the publishers; but in the long run it would not, for the easier they can make it for customers to close out their stock the more readily they will buy next time. It is not for the real interest of the publisher to see the bookseller lose on any of his stock." This suggestion, plausible as it may appear, will no doubt fall on stony ground so far as the publisher is concerned. However, inasmuch as the subject touches a vital point in present-day bookselling, it is one on which a general expression of opinion seems desirable, and we will gladly lend our columns for a discussion of the proposition.

THE AMERICAN POSTAL LEAGUE.

THE AMERICAN POSTAL LEAGUE has been organized to encourage the enactment of a parcels post bill by Congress. Some of the aims of the League are: "To prevent any increase of rates on any class of mail matter, and to reduce rates as rapidly as possible on all mail matter; to secure to the American public postal facilities equal, at least, to those enjoyed by the people of Europe, and especially to secure from the incoming Congress the establishment of a domestic parcels post as efficient and cheap as that of Germany and Switzerland, a foreign parcels post equal to that of the more progressive European countries, and a simplification of postal rates, so that second-class matter shall no longer be subjected to the arbitrary rulings of department officials." The association was first organized as the New York Postal Progress League; in order, however, to give it wider power it was voted at a later meeting to adopt the more comprehensive title.

It is proposed to attain these ends by education through the press, by the dissemination of literature, by holding popular meetings, and by obtaining pledges from all members of Congress and nominees for Congress. The officers of the League are: President, Albert A. Pope; treasurer, William B. Howland; secretary, James L. Cowles. Some of the members of the League are Dodd, Mead & Co., Brentano's, Methodist Book Concern, Doubleday, Page & Co., University Publishing Company, William A. Pond & Co., A. S. Barnes & Co., Ernest H. Crosby, the American Tract Society, Siegel-Cooper Company, Simpson-Crawford Company and Trow Directory, Printing and Bookbinding Company.

ANOTHER NEW ENGLAND PRIMER.

ANOTHER early and previously undescribed "New England Primer" has recently passed through the hands of Dodd, Mead & Co. into the library of a collector in Brooklyn, N. Y. This edition was unknown to Paul Leicester Ford when he compiled his work on "The Little Bible of New England." It is dated 1746, and is, according to R. F. R[oden], in the Saturday Times Review of August 8, "the fifth earliest known edition of this important book, now so highly prized by collectors. Ford knew of only three editions printed before 1761, the dates being 1727, 1737 and 1738. Within the last year these editions have been discovered: 1735, 1746 and 1754. The following list gives the dates of the eleven earliest known editions:

Boston, 1727, printed by S. Kneeland and T. Green, only known copy is in the Lenox Library (lacking four leaves, A1, B2, B3, and E8, although a small part of B2 remains.) This copy was bought for only $5 in 1876 by the late Dr. Moore of the Lenox Library.*

[* This copy, we happen to know, was offered to a number of booksellers in New York by the lady who owned it. Receiving no higher bid than ten cents, she was about to go home when she passed another bookstore. The proprietor of that shop, recognizing its value at once, offered $3. A day or two later Dr. Moore secured it for $5.—Ed. P. W.]

Boston, 1735, printed by S. Kneeland and T. Green, only known copy is in the library of E. Dwight Church. This is the copy unearthed last Winter in Pennsylvania. Some of the newspaper accounts of its discovery gave the date of 1727.

Boston, 1737, printed by T. Fleet; only known copy is in the library of the late Cornelius Vanderbilt. This is George Brinley's copy, sold for $612 in 1881, together with the editions of 1768, 1770, 1776, 1777, and one without date (about 1790.)

Boston, 1738, printed by T. Fleet; only known copy is in the library of E. Dwight Church. This is the copy offered for $300 in Dodd, Mead & Co.'s catalogue of October, 1892.

Boston, 1746, printed by Rogers & Fowle; only known copy is in the library of E. Dwight Church. This is the recently discovered copy referred to in the first paragraph.

Germantown, Penn., 1754, "reprinted and sold by Christopher Sower, Jr.," only known copy was advertised for sale in Dodd, Mead & Co.'s catalogue of April, 1903. This is probably the first book printed by the second Christopher Sower, (or Sauer), son of the first German printer in America, who issued in 1743, in Germantown, a German Bible, the first edition of the Holy Scriptures printed here in a European language.

Boston, 1761, printed by D. and J. Kneeland. This title is given in Sabin's "Dictionary of Books Relating to America," but he did not locate a copy, and none seems to be known at the present time.

Boston, 1762, printed by S. Adams; only known copy is in the library of E. Dwight Church. This is the fine Ives copy, bought by Dodd, Mead & Co. for only $105 at the Ives sale in 1891.

Boston, 1767, printed by W. McAlpine; only known copy was advertised for sale at $325 in Dodd, Mead & Co.'s catalogue of April, 1903. This edition was unknown to Ford.

London, 1767, reprint of a Boston edition; only known copy is in the Lenox Library. This was purchased several years ago for $100 by Alexander Maitland, and presented to the library by him.

Boston, 1768, printed for John Perkins; only known copy is in the library of the late Cornelius Vanderbilt. This is the Brinley copy referred to above.

"The first edition of the New England Primer was supposed by Ford to have been printed in Boston about 1600 by R. Peirce for Benjamin Harris. In Henry Newman's 'News of the Stars,' ('Boston, R. Peirce, for Benjamin Harris, 1691,') probably issued late in 1690, occurs this advertisement:

"There is now in the Press, and will suddenly be extant, a Second Impression of The New-England Primer enlarged, to which is added, More Directions for Spelling; the Prayer of K. Edward the 6th, and Verses made by Mr. Rogers the Martyr, left as a Legacy to his Children.

"There is also reason to believe that an earlier edition of the Primer was issued in Cambridge, Mass., in 1668, by Marmaduke Johnson. No earlier edition than that of 1727 is known, however, at the present day, despite the fact that the New England Primer is the most widely advertised of American books."

A PUBLISHER'S FORTUNE.

WITH reference to the forthcoming centenary of Lord Lytton, it has been stated by Francis Gribble, in the Fortnightly Review, that "the House of Routledge is well known to have laid the foundation of its fortunes by giving £20,000 for the right to issue a six-penny edition of his works." The statement has been criticised; but, according to the London Times, "the truth of the matter is that it was Messrs. Smith's bookstalls which helped more than anything else toward the making of the reputation of the Routledge firm. The bookstalls were started by Smith about 1848, and George Routledge, quick to see the possibilities of the new system, issued the first volume of his Railway Library with Fenimore Cooper's 'Pilot' at a shilling. The series was successful, and for many years afforded the chief business at Smith's book-stalls.

"It was in 1853 that Routledge made his celebrated offer of £20,000 to Lytton for the right to include nineteen of his novels in the Library for the term of ten years. 'In spite of the enormous outlay,' says Curwen, in his 'History of Booksellers,' 'they were very willing, on the expiry of the time, to take a fresh lease of the popular volumes; so that an offer originally deemed by the trade to be quixotic, if not ruinous, must have reaped the success that its liberality and boldness deserved; and by their association with Sir E. Bulwer Lytton a great prestige was at once acquired.' Similar arrangements were made with Disraeli, G. P. R. James, Harrison Ainsworth and other favorite novelists, these reissues being followed by the publication of original works by Mayne Reid, Grant and others, as well as by the first English edition of many of Prescott's and Longfellow's works."

COMMUNICATIONS.

CONCERNING "A SELECTION OF PASSAGES FROM ST. CHRYSOSTOM" AND OTHERS.

To the Editor of The Publishers' Weekly.

SIR: The name of the compilers of "A selection of passages from St. Chrysostom, St. Gregory Nazianzen, [not Nagianzen] and St. Gregory," was HUGH STUART BOYD.

Elizabeth Barrett Browning had nothing to do with the "Selection" excepting to read it. Hugh Stuart Boyd was Mrs. Browning's tutor in Greek, and she has fondly commemorated his learning and virtues in one of her most inspiring poems entitled "Wine of Cyprus."

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

MR. J. N. LARNED is occupied at his summer home, East Jewett, N. Y., with the last pages of his text-book of American history, to be published forthwith by Houghton, Mifflin & Co. His text-book of English history has met with gratifying success.

ARTHUR SEVERN, the artist who married Ruskin's cousin and ward, Miss Joan Ruskin Agnew, has nearly completed his "Recollections of Ruskin," which should prove interesting, considering the author's intimate association with Ruskin and his great talent as a raconteur.

MR. GOLDWIN SMITH, on August 13, completed his eightieth year. For more than half a century Mr. Goldwin Smith, as historian, as a philosopher and journalist, has exercised a powerful influence in directing English thought, and, indirectly in shaping history. As a master of the English language Mr. Goldwin Smith has few, if any, peers.

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

Ainslee's Magazine is offering prizes to the amount of $3000 to the booksellers and news-dealers who will undertake to make a special canvass for their magazine. The details of the competition will be found in their advertising page elsewhere in this issue.

SEVEN well-known physicians, headed by Dr. Albert W. Ferris, have formed a company for the publication of a daily medical journal in New York, the initial number of which is to appear October 1. The paper will be six pages, and will report the medical happenings of the world. It will also publish a daily review of the current medical literature of the world.

Country Life in America is to have a large double-sized "Country Home Number" for October, to deal with the most attractive and distinctive types of our country homes the country over, showing in a comprehensive way the present tendencies of country house architecture. Everything that has to do with country houses, even to the kitchens, furnishings, plumbing and water supply, and the grounds generally, will be illustrated in this journal's characteristically generous manner.

New Shakespeareana for October-December, which will be published September 5, will contain a letter from the Rev. George Arbuthnot replying sharply to American criticism on his administration of the affairs of Trinity Church, Stratford on Avon, of which he is the vicar; Dr. R. L. Ashhurst, Vice-Dean of the Philadelphia Shakespeare Society, handles Mr. Mallock without gloves for trying to read the Baconian theory out of seventeenth-century title-pages in the Pall Mall Magazine, and there is the usual quota of annotated criticism, etc. The late unpleasantness concerning the site of the Carnegie Library at Stratford is illustrated by a cut of the threatened cottages.

BIBLIOGRAPHIC NOTES.

KARSLAKE & Co., 61 Charing Cross Road, London, W. C., have just published part three of the first volume—January to March 31, 1903—of "Sales Records." The record is by individual auction sales, giving name of buyer and price realized, to which is added an author and title index. (4+387+536+32 p. 16°, pap.)

CHARLES EVANS, 1045 Pratt Avenue, Rogers Park, Chicago, announces that work on the first volume of his "American Bibliography, 1639-1820," has advanced so far that he expects to be able to furnish it to subscribers early in September. The volume will cover the years 1639 to 1730. The edition will be limited, and we are pleased to learn that only a few copies are unsubscribed for.

OTTAVI FRÈRES, Casale Monferrato, Italy, announce that they will publish quarterly a list of the more important books and periodicals on agriculture published in Italy, France, Great Britain, Germany, America and other countries, under the title of "Bibliographie Agronomica Universalis." The work will be compiled by E. Ottavi and A. Marescalchi, with the co-operation of Messrs. Dewitz and Vermorel. Each title will bear the Dewey decimal classification number. The work will cover the books issued since January, 1903, and will be printed on one side of the sheet, so as to permit the subscriber to cut out only those titles which he needs. The subscription price is $2.50 the year.

CATALOGUES OF NEW AND SECOND-HAND BOOKS.—Maggs Bros., 109 Strand, London, Books printed on vellum, fine art works, etc. (No. 195, 1077 titles.)—A. Maurice & Co., 23 Bedford St., Covent Garden, London, Books on art, cricket, gardening, etc. (No. 134, 303 titles.)—Bernard Quaritch, 15 Piccadilly, London, European history, literature and philology, the occult sciences, alchemy, astrology, folklore, magic, etc., periodicals and transactions of learned societies, political economy, etc. (No. 223, 1234 titles. 1s.)—Rosberg'sche Buchhandlung, 15 Universitätsstr., Leipzig, Books for bibliophiles. (No. 2, 1080 titles.)

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

GEORGE W. JACOBS & Co., Philadelphia, will publish on the 22d inst. "The Rambillicus Book," wonder tales for children from seven to seventy, by Walt McDougall. The volume is an octavo fully illustrated.

WYCIL & Co. will publish September 1 a new story by Florence Warden, entitled "The Mis-Rule of Three," full of love, mystery and adventure. The volume will have eight full-page illustrations by Caroline Fulghum.

THE DIRECTORS OF OLD SOUTH WORK, Boston, have just added eight new leaflets to the Old South Series, including the first number of The Dial; the "Schools of Massachusetts in 1824;" and "Boston in 1796," an extract of Timothy Dwight's journal.

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS have just issued Katherine M. Abbott's new book, "Old Paths and Legends of New England," an account of "saunterings over historical roads, with glimpses of picturesque fields and old homesteads in Massachusetts, Rhode Island and New Hampshire."

E. J. CLODE will publish August 22 "The Wings of the Morning," a new story by Louis Tracy, a new writer. Owing to Mr. Clode's extraordinary offers to the trade, orders for two-thirds of the entire first two editions have already been sold, and a third edition will be put to press at once.

STREET & SMITH have purchased all the plates of Robert Bonner's Sons, which include many good copyright stories by such authors as Mrs. Southworth, Laura Jean Libby, Sylvanus Cobb and Amelia E. Barr. These will be brought out hereafter in Street & Smith's ten-cent lines.

L. C. PAGE & Co. will publish in the fall a series of drawings that Blanche McManus is preparing for the De La More Press, of London. The volume will be entitled "The Cathedrals of Northern France," and will contain eighty drawings, which will be accompanied with text by Francis Miltoun.

GEORGE A. MORTON, a new Edinburgh publisher, will issue immediately a small book by Miss Marie Corelli, entitled "The Soul of Queen Alexandra;" also, "From Journalist to Judge," by Judge Alexander Condie Stephen, formerly editor of The Birmingham Daily Gazette and some time assistant to Blowitz in Paris.

THE BURROWS BROTHERS COMPANY have in preparation a limited edition of a reprint of Eliot's "The Logic Primer," edited by Wilberforce Eames; Esquemeling's "Bucaniers of America," in four volumes, edited by Felix Neumann, of the Library of Congress; also, a translation of the "life" of Christopher Columbus by his son Fernando, edited by Professor E. G. Bourne.

HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & Co. have just brought out an interesting little guide to the "Literary Landmarks of Boston," by Lindsay Swift, of the Boston Public Library. The book mentions the houses occupied at one time or another by about 260 persons of literary fame in Boston and its suburbs. Illustrations of the more notable landmarks accompany the text.

THE EQUITABLE PUBLISHING Co., Allentown, Pa., have just published "The Travels of John Wryland," narrating the incidents of Wryland's journey to Tibet, and of his there becoming King of the Island of Palti, and of the war he waged upon the Ne-ar-Bians. The work throws new light upon the geography of Tibet, upon the history, laws, institutions, architecture and inhabitants of Palti.

THE Provincial Court at Leipzig, on August 12, concluded the trial of the German publisher of Tolstoi's pamphlet, "Thou Shalt Not Kill," which was seized by the police on July 4 on the ground that it contained statements regarding Emperor William which were classed as high treason. The court decided that the charge of lèse majesté had been proven, and ordered that the unsold copies of the pamphlet and the plates be destroyed.

THE BOBBS-MERRILL COMPANY have just brought out "Marion Harland's Complete Cook Book," a practical and exhaustive manual of cookery and housekeeping, containing thousands of carefully-proved recipes, prepared for the housewife, not for the chef, and many chapters on the care and management of the home. The book is fully illustrated and is, as the title declares, the final expression of the author's life's experience.

D. APPLETON & Co. have in preparation a new story for young people by William O. Stoddard, entitled "The Spy of Yorktown," which deals with that period of the Revolution when Benedict Arnold, as a reward for his treachery, was placed in charge of the British forces in Virginia. They also announce a novel entitled "The Law of Life," by Anna McClure Sholl, who deals with the university life, socially and academically, of the professor. The novel is said to be essentially American.

THE AMERICAN BAPTIST PUBLICATION SOCIETY has been appointed the American agent for "The Holy Scriptures in Modern English," translated by Ferar Fenton, published in England by S. W. Partridge & Co. The work is published in one volume, also in five separate parts, as follows: Vol. 1, "The Five Books of Moses;" vol. 2, "The History of Israel;" vol. 3, "The Book of the Prophets;" vol. 4, "Psalms, Solomon and The Sacred Writers," and vol. 5, "The New Testament."

THE ALDINE PUBLISHING COMPANY, 32 Lafayette Place, New York, have just brought out a book that will attract considerable attention, entitled "History of the Carnegie Steel Company." It is written by James Howard Bridge, who was at one time secretary to Mr. Carnegie, and before he came to this country in 1886, or thereabouts, secretary to Herbert Spencer. The claim is made that the book contains much that is new about the famous fight between Mr. Carnegie and H. C. Frick. The book is published in two styles—an edition of fifty copies at $100 each, and one of 450 copies at $25 each.

THE ORMERIL COMPANY, Caxton Building, Cleveland, announces that they have purchased from D. Appleton & Co. the plates of their well-known Collection of Foreign Authors. This series embraces translations from some of the leading recent French and German writers of fiction, such as Gautier, Theuriet and Heyse, and it is the intention of the Ormeril Company to greatly extend the series by adding translations from the best modern writers of Spain, Italy and other European countries. All the volumes of the present series are out of print and new editions will be issued at once. "Samuel Brohl & Company," from the French of Victor Cherbuliez, will be ready early in September, and others will follow at short intervals.

HINDS & NOBLE, 31 West Fifteenth Street, New York, will publish this month "A New School Management," by Dr. Levi Seeley, of the State Normal School of Trenton, N. J.; "The Groundwork of Psychology," by Dr. G. F. Stout; "The Best American Orations of To-day," compiled by Harriet Blackstone; "Selected Readings from the Most Popular Novels," compiled by William Mather Lewis, of Lake Forest University; a new edition of "The Worth of Words," by Dr. Ralcy Husted Bell; "An Open Door to Cæsar," by Dr. Harrison D. Cannon; "A Manual Training Record Book," by John J. Quinn; a new edition of "How to Study Literature," by Benjamin A. Heydrick; also, "The Writing of Good Books," by M. L. Radford, of the University of Chicago.

HARPER & BROTHERS will publish in September Justin Huntly McCarthy's new novel, "The Proud Prince." A few days after its publication in book form the play made from the story of Mr. McCarthy will be presented by Daniel Frohman on the stage in New York, with Mr. Sothorn in the title rôle. The title of Mrs. Margaret Deland's new volume of Old Chester stories, which will be published in the autumn by the Harpers, has been changed from "Old Chester Folk" to

"Dr. Lavender's People." Dr. Lavender, it will be remembered by readers of Mrs. Deland's previous volume of "Old Chester Tales," is the broad-minded and broad-hearted old country clergyman who forms the connecting link between all of this author's Chester stories.

CAMPION & Co., Philadelphia, have in preparation a new book on colonial and early American history entitled "The Life and Times of Thomas Smith, 1745-1809," by Burton Alva Konkle. Justice Smith, whom Chief-Justice Sharswood considered the greatest land lawyer on the Supreme Court bench of Pennsylvania, was a member of the Continental Congress, and was probably the most eminent representative of the moderate party who lived in the mountain home of the popular and Presbyterian radical party, led by George Bryan, of Philadelphia, during that long and bitterest of contests over the Constitution of 1776 and its single-branch legislature in Pennsylvania. The volume will have an introduction by the Hon. Hampton L. Carson, Attorney-General of Pennsylvania, and a number of portraits and maps.

DODD, MEAD & Co. will publish shortly a new book by James L. Ford, author of "The Literary Shop," which will be entitled "The Brazen Calf." Many of the papers contained in this book have already appeared in The Saturday Evening Post of Philadelphia under the title "Our American Snobs." They treat of that grade of modern society known as the "Four Hundred," but the satire is not directed at that group of well-advertised aristocrats, but rather at those persons who, not knowing them in the flesh, nevertheless devote a great deal of time to reading and talking about them. The scenes of Mr. Ford's story are laid in a New York boarding house, and the feverish interest manifested by the boarders in the comings and goings of those who constitute the "Four Hundred" in fashionable weddings and other great functions is amusingly described. They have just brought out the eleventh volume of their "New International Encyclopædia." The distinguishing feature of this volume seems to be the number and fulness of biographical sketches, among which the more important are those of Abraham Lincoln, General Robert E. Lee, James Russell Lowell, Luther and the late President McKinley. Other subjects treated with fulness are Latin language and literature, law and legislation, leather, libraries, life insurance and life saving, light, literary property, lithography, locomotive, logic, magnetism, maize, maps, marine and marriage. The subjects of geographical importance are Leipzig, London, Louisiana, Louisville, Lübeck, Luzerne, Luzon, Maine, Manitoba, Maryland and Massachusetts. There are 11 maps, 7 color plates and 32 engravings.

BUSINESS NOTES.

NEW YORK CITY.—The plates, printed stock and furniture of Lewis, Scribner & Co. will be sold at public auction under the direction of Dudley Dupignac, trustee, at 113 Leonard Street, August 21, at 10:30 A.M.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

Under the heading "Books Wanted" book-traders subscribers are given the privilege of a free advertisement for books out of print, of five nonpareil lines exclusive of address, in any issue except special numbers, to an extent not exceeding 100 lines a year. If more than five lines are sent, the excess is at 10 cents a line, and amount should be inclosed. Bids for current books and such as may be easily had from the publishers, and repeated matter, as well as all advertisements from non-subscribers, must be paid for at the rate of 10 cents a line.

Under the heading "Books for Sale," the charge to subscribers and non-subscribers is 10 cents a nonpareil line for each insertion. No deduction for repeated matter.

All other small, undisplaced, advertisements will be charged at the uniform rate of 10 cents a nonpareil line. Eight words may be reckoned to the line.

Parties with whom we have no accounts must pay in advance, otherwise no notice will be taken of their communications.

BOOKS WANTED.

In answering, please state edition, condition, and price, including postage or express charges.

Houses that are willing to deal exclusively on a cash-on-delivery basis will find it to their advantage to put after their firm-name the word [Cash].

Write your wants plainly and on one side of the sheet only. Illegibly-written "wants" will be considered as not having been received. The "Publishers' Weekly" does not hold itself responsible for errors.

It should be understood that the appearance of advertisements in this column, or elsewhere in the "Publishers' Weekly" does not furnish a guarantee of credit. While it is endeavored to safeguard these columns by withdrawing the privilege of their use from advertisers who are not "good pay," booksellers should take the usual precaution, as to advertisers not known to them, that they would take in making sales to any unknown parties.

MR. JACK LONDON'S NEW NOVEL The Call of the Wild

"THE WHOLE STORY is vital with interest."

—NEW YORK HERALD.

"A STORY THAT GRIPS the reader deeply. It is art, it is literature."

—MAIL AND EXPRESS, New York.

"A PICTURE that in its wonderful imaginative quality stands quite alone . . . altogether a most exceptional book."

—COMMERCIAL ADVERTISER, New York.

"MARVELLOUSLY INTERESTING. . . . It is written in masterly fashion. There are whole pages that thrill like poetry, whole passages that glow with splendid truth."

—THE LOUISVILLE TIMES.

"EVEN THE MOST LISTLESS READER will be stirred by the virile force of the story, the strong sweeping strokes with which the pictures of the northern wilds and the life therein are painted by the narrator.

. . . More than that, it is one of the very best stories of the year, and one that will not be forgotten."

—THE PLAIN DEALER, Cleveland.

"A BIG STORY IN SOBER

ENGLISH and with thorough art in the construction . . . a wonderfully perfect bit of work . . . a book that will be heard of. The dog adventures are as exciting as any man's exploits could be, and Mr. London's workmanship is wholly satisfying."—THE NEW YORK SUN.

"THE STORY IS ONE THAT WILL STIR THE BLOOD of every lover of a life in its closest relation to nature. Whoever loves the open or adventure for its own sake will find 'The Call of the Wild' a most fascinating book."

—THE BROOKLYN EAGLE.

"IN THE FIRST PARAGRAPHS of this superb story the reader's interest is irresistibly aroused and attention is held enchained to the end . . . here is excitement to stir the blood, here is picturesque color to transport the reader to primitive scenes . . . and here is excellence of literary workmanship deserving of unreserved praise."

—THE PRESS, Philadelphia.

"IT IS A TRIUMPH . . . THE STORY IS THE THING AND IT IS A FINE ONE."—THE EVENING SUN, New York.

Ainslee's Magazine

WILL GIVE

$3,000 to Newsdealers

2d Competition

Our first prize competition, in which prizes amounting to $3,300 were given to newsdealers, was such a success that we are going to give another, in which a like amount will be given to dealers who sell the greatest number of AINSLEE'S for September, October, and November. Any dealer who hustles cannot fail to win a prize. Call the attention of your magazine readers to AINSLEE'S. Display the posters and distribute the advertising matter we send you, and you will be astonished to see how rapidly your sales will increase. Watch your stock and when you see it running low, re-order so as to have a fresh supply before your first order is exhausted.

Dealers will be classed, in this second competition, according to the number of copies of the August number they sold. In case they did not sell any of this number, they will be placed in Class D. Therefore, even though you do not handle AINSLEE'S at present, you are eligible to compete, if you order a supply of the September number, and do your best to increase your sales on the succeeding issues.

The classes are as follows :

Class A.—50 Prizes of $10.00 Each

The 50 dealers who sold 25 or more copies of the August number of AINSLEE'S, and who sell the greatest number of copies of the September, October, and November numbers will receive $10.00 each.

Class B.—150 Prizes of $5.00 Each

The 150 dealers who sold from 10 to 24 copies of the August number of AINSLEE'S, and who sell the greatest number of copies of the September, October, and November numbers will receive $5.00 each.

Class C.—150 Prizes of $5.00 Each

The 150 dealers who sold from 5 to 9 copies of the August number of AINSLEE'S, and who sell the greatest number of copies of the September, October, and November numbers will receive $5.00 each.

Class D.—200 Prizes of $5.00 Each

The 200 dealers who sold 1 to 4 copies of the August number of AINSLEE'S, and who sell the greatest number of copies of the September, October, and November numbers will receive $5.00 each.

A $5.00 or $10.00 prize is worth working for. Are you with us? If so, send for advertising matter to help your sales.

will comprise the lists of upwards of three hundred publishers—over eighty lists more than the work has before contained—which will greatly enhance its value to the bookseller as an inexpensive work of reference for books in print. Notwithstanding the increase in size, the price will be as heretofore, $2, and to those subscribing and paying in advance, $1.50.

NEW SUPPLEMENTARY INDEX

We are preparing this year a supplement to the Index volume of last year, which will include (1) the titles of the books of those publishers who were not represented in last year's Catalogues volume ; (2) the titles of the new books published since the issue of last year's Trade List Annual by the publishers represented in the 1902 and 1903 volumes ; and (3) the titles which were reported too late for insertion in last year's Index volume, as well as corrections, etc.

Supplementary Index, 1 vol., about 200 pages, 8vo., cloth, $2. After Publication, $2.50.

Only enough copies of the Supplementary Index will be printed to supply the demand from those who purchased last year's INDEX, and to bind up with the small number of the remaining copies of last year's INDEX, into a comprehensive volume of about 1300 pages, which will be priced at $5 for copies paid for in advance of publication, or $6 thereafter.

The prices in every case are net, and do not include carriage. Orders, with remittance, should be placed now. Directions for enclosure delivery in New York should accompany the order, unless shipment is to be by express at the charge of the subscriber. Address

PUBLISHERS are gradually realizing the importance of two vital facts, especially when contemplating having large editions bound.

FIRST—To have their books bound in the best possible manner.

SECOND—To save enough money thereon as will guarantee an enormous annual extra dividend.

You are certainly not averse to making money. Ask me to submit samples and estimates. You will then follow the lead of some of the best publishing houses who find it profitable to give me their work.

State Publications

A Provisional List of the Official Publications of the Several States of the United States from their Organization

COMPILED UNDER THE EDITORIAL DIRECTION OF

PART I: NEW ENGLAND STATES—Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut

Includes preface giving a sketch of State Bibliography.

PART II: NORTH CENTRAL STATES—New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin

The complete work, exceeding 500 pages, will be furnished at $5. Subscriptions will be received only for the whole work.

But 500 copies have been printed and there are no plates.

The attention of State libraries, of the central public libraries, and of foreign libraries is especially called to this publication, but it is also important to that larger number of libraries which cannot undertake to collect the State publications even of their own State, and yet should be able to inform students and inquirers as to what is to be found in the publications of their own State and of other States. What New York and Massachusetts are doing in forestry, for instance, is of importance in all States and to foreign students of the subject.

Publications of Societies

A Provisional List of the Publications of American Scientific, Literary, and Other Societies from their Organization

This volume, of 186 pages, schedules over 1100 societies issuing publications, and gives title-entries of all their publications, as far as data could be obtained from the societies and from libraries. It will be found of use in all libraries—in large libraries as a check-list, in small libraries as a bibliographical key to a most important field of special literature.
